Profile:

To be a Migration Agent in Australia, you must be qualified and be able to demonstrate your technical knowledge of Migration Law and register with the Australian Government. It is illegal for anyone to provide or charge for immigration advice in Australia if they are not a Registered Migration Agent. All too often we have heard horror stories from Clients who have had terrible service, bad advice and had to constantly chase up their migration advisor for updates, especially when using overseas unregistered agents.

We know what constitutes great service and how to treat a Client. We offer tailored advice, quickly and effectively manage your case and we will never keep you guessing as to what is going on. We also are able to track the progress of your application and have access to up to the minute Migration Law information keeping us totally informed of the ever-changing legislation environment. Give us a call and you will soon see why our Clients write glowing testimonials and recommend us over all other Migration Agents in Australia and constantly refer their friends and family to us.

Personal Biography of Peter Loughton:

Peter completed his qualification in migration law in 1997 and commenced as a sole practitioner Registered Migration Agent. He formed Immigration & Visa Advisory Services and ran that business until 2003. He began operating as Principal Agent and Director of Australian Migration & Citizenship Services (AMCS) in late 2003 and remains in that position.

He has travelled widely promoting Australian migration and has mentored new migration agents and provided Continuing Professional Development (CPD) courses for many years. He is accredited by the Migration Institute of Australia (MIA) as a CPD presenter. Peter was appointed as a Civil Marriage Celebrant by the Federal Attorney General in 1987 and relinquished that position in 2014. City of Geraldton, Western Australia

Australia

www.cgg.wa.gov.au

Mr. Shane Van Styn

Mayor

mayor@cgg.wa.gov.au

+61 8 9956 6600

Profile:

Greater Geraldton is a region located 420km north of Perth in the Australia's Coral Coast region and is the largest regional city north of Perth. Being a central point between the resource rich Pilbara, the growing Kimberley region and the State's capital city of Perth provides the Mid West with a host of different economic opportunities - all of which the region intends to capitalise on.

Traditionally an agricultural region, the area is now attracting unprecedented investment interest from a range of other industry sectors. The mining industry has quickly become the main economic driver of the region. Strong international demand for commodities and high commodity prices have already underpinned significant mining investment and many more projects are planned for future years.

The area is home to one of the largest agricultural regions in the State with approximately 17.8 million hectares allocated to agriculture, shared across an estimated 1,000 establishments.

Geraldton is also rapidly emerging as a significant producer of high end foods through its growing intensive horticultural industries. The quality soils, access to water and application of advanced shade-house technology means a long season of the freshest and cleanest variety of foods, including tomatoes, bitter melon, buffalo spinach, Chinese cabbage, coriander, egg plants, garlic and more. The area is also home to the Geraldton Fisherman's Co-operative - the largest rock lobster processor in the world, exporting 3,572 tonnes in 2013-14.

Objectives:

Looking to meet companies interested in investing in a new islands tourism experience in Australia at the Houtman Abrolhos Islands, inclusive of hotel development, fast ferry services and mixed use commercial precincts either onshore or offshore at the Houtman Abrolhos islands or on land in Geraldton, Western Australia. Also looking for firms interested in investing in whole of airport infrastructure.

Personal Biography of Shane Van Styn:

Shane was first elected to city council in 2011 at 34 years of age and in October 2015 was elected the position of Mayor by the people of the City of Greater Geraldton. As well as holding the office of Mayor, Shane is also a CPA accountants and has run a small firm for the last 18 years and has been involved in a range of small and medium businesses in the hospitality, construction, property services and security industries.

www.getting-dirty.com

Ms. Lorraine Duffy
Managing Director
lorraine@getting-dirty.com
+44 7940 095984

Profile:

At Getting Dirty®, we design and produce premium quality clothing that bridges the gap between street and sports. What we wear shows where our heart is and what we stand for.

Inspired by a love for extreme sports, the great outdoors and the buzz of live music and street art, Getting Dirty® has become a way of life. From the half-pipe to the dirt track, the canvas to the brickwork, our customers are unapologetically fond of grass stains and Paint splatters, and not afraid to show it. Through our stylish clothing ranges, we're pushing the boundaries of what's possible within the clothing industry and developing a brand ethically and sustainably.

Objectives:

Looking to meet owners of fashion outlets and fashion import/export companies.

Personal Biography of Lorraine Duffy:

I'm Lorraine, self-employed mum of two dirt-loving, thrill-seeking children. I'm a co-owner of a security company that specialises in integrated security systems, and a business park for both domestic and business premises. My real passion is sports and the great outdoors — and doing it in style!

Coming from a family of extreme sports enthusiasts, Getting Dirty® was born from frustration with the lack of exciting and innovative British streetwear brands with a sustainable conscious.

Getting Dirty® speaks to the young and young at heart, and I genuinely care about the lifecycle of our products, and the impact it has on the younger generation, the economy and the planet.

With Getting Dirty® headquarters now based in Birmingham as part of the RBS/ NatWest Banks Entrepreneurial Accelerator Scheme, I'm excited to have the opportunity to develop and grow the company into an internationally-recognised clothing brand.

Always on the move and discovering new avenues for my start-up has made me a diverse and pluralistic person. Unassuming discovery of different concepts in humanity has led me to my mission - to make the most of every opportunity primarily for others. In my free time, I like learning new languages and cooking. I am also a Buddhist and regularly participate in missions to help young people with self-discovery and the application of their unique potential for the shared goal of world peace.
